Nenah Sylver's earliest career was as a singer, musician, and award-winning songwriter. Her background in music led her to study energy healing, physics, and eventually electromedicine. She has published extensively on a wide range of topics in holistic health, psychology, sexuality and social change; but she is best known as the author of The Rife Handbook of Frequency Therapy and Holistic Health, portions of which have been translated into Spanish, Polish, Korean, and German. After working for almost two decades as a Reichian (body-mind) psychotherapist, she became certified in Psych-K™, the Tennant Biomodulator, and VoiceBio Analysis Levels 1 & 2. Dr. Sylver offers educational courses on Rife Therapy and other electromedical modalities to individuals and groups. She also works with clients on a short-term basis, using rapid emotional release techniques. Her newest research involves case studies with the Magnetex ("Practitioner Trials," www.magnetex.org).
