

Paddy McAlister
President of Magnetex
<http://www.magnetex.org>

For over two decades, Ms. Paddy McAlister has worked in the energy medicine and therapy field, using modalities ranging from color and touch healing to meridian therapy. With a undergraduate background in science and microbiology, she later taught Unified Field Physics, worked with a parent support group for drug-addicted teenagers, and was involved in the Japanese World Peace Project. In 2004, Ms. McAlister was the on-site manager for a Russian medical team doing research in “Frequency Imprinted Saline IV Treatments” at the Emanuel Medical Clinic in Georgia, under the supervision of Dr. Steve Haltiwanger. Ms. McAlister has worked as a technician to administer testing on a variety of electromedical devices, including Gas Discharge Visualization, the Computron, and Bioelectrical Impedance Analysis, in the offices of medical doctors, chiropractors, naturopaths and acupuncturists. Her new company, Magnetex, sells a hand-held, vibrating magnetic vortex instrument for eliminating pain and restoring health through the detoxification of the body’s cells and tissues.